

Questions to talk about

*Three questions, one for each level of the Club.
One at a time, at the table. Not all in one night.*

There is no answer sheet. If you find yourself explaining, you have taken the wrong turn. Ask, then be quiet for longer than feels comfortable.

LEVEL ONE · LOOK TWICE

What is something in this house you have walked past a thousand times and could not draw from memory?

- Go and look at it now. What did you get wrong?
- What is something about me you have never noticed?

LEVEL TWO · FIND THE REASON

Think of somebody who did something today that annoyed you. What do you think they were trying to do?

- What would you have to ask them to find out whether you are right?
- Has anybody ever been annoyed at you for something you were doing for a good reason?

LEVEL THREE · TAKE CARE

Who does something for you that you have never thanked them for, because you have never noticed it?

- What could you do for somebody this week that they would never find out about?
- The mice put the statue back every night so that nobody would be bothered. Was that the right thing to do, or should they have said something?

Look twice. Find the reason. Take care.
